BUILDINGS IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION AND CONSIDERED.

CONTRACTORS ARE ALL VERY BUSY

A Large Number of Elegant New Residences in the West End—The Furnace to be Finished at an Early Day. A Handsome Frame Structure.

Building operations were never so active in this city as they are today.

Contractors find it difficult work to have their orders for material filled, and on this account progress on a great many of the buildings has been delayed.

The half dozen brick yards of the city are doing an immense business and the brick are hardly allowed to get cool before they are carted away.

Good prices are demanded and cheerfully paid, but not withstanding this a number of carloads have to be brought here from Lynchburg and other surrounding cities. The class of buildings now in course of erection is much better than it has been in years past.

The work is also being done in a much more substantial manner and Roanoke is taking on the appearance of a city which will cater more favorably with larger and more pretentious places in the country.

In the West End any number of elegant new residences are being pushed forward to completion. On Patterson avenue Postmaster A. S. Asberry is building a magnificent home for himself. It is to be of pressed brick with white marble facings.

When pressed brick is used it is meant that the building is to be the regulation pressed brick front, but it is to be of pressed brick on all sides and from the foundation up.

The building when completed will be one of the handsomest in the city and will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.

Just across the street Mr. Peter S. Miller, of the Bridgewater Carriage Works, has commenced the erection of a beautiful little house. The foundations are now ready for the frame.

The house will be in the Queen Anne style which is now so popular every where.

A square west of these two new houses is that of Cunningham Wood, which is now rapidly being pushed forward. Mr. Woodward's house is on the corner of Patterson avenue and D street, and is one of the handsomest frame structures in the city.

It is very large, and is arranged with an eye to comfort. A great wide veranda runs entirely around the house, and adds a great deal to its appearance.

In the West End Mr. Payne, of the Roanoke Constellation, is building a large store, Mr. Asberry intends to erect another next to it, and the remaining space between the post office and the little Queen Anne cottage will be filled by another large store.

This will add greatly to the appearance of Campbell street at this point. Just across the street Dr. Kirk, it is said will erect a handsome storehouse to be occupied by a gentleman from Washington who will open there with a stock of goods for furnishing goods.

On the opposite corner, Mr. Moomaw Bros. are now putting the finishing touches to a handsome three story building in which the TIMES will be published.

More About the Scioto Transfer.

As stated in an official circular printed in yesterday's News the Scioto Valley and New England Company has completed the transfer of control to the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company, the latter company making the necessary guarantee of the $500,000 bonds of the Scioto Valley and New England Railroad Company, the principal and interest. The old board of directors of the S. V. & N. E. R. Company remain, except that Mr. Doran, of the Norfolk and Western, and Mr. Jones, of the Scioto Valley, are no longer members. Mr. Jones, secretary of the Norfolk and Western, becomes secretary of the Scioto Valley and New England Railroad Company. The board limits the issue of bonds to $500,000, and makes a supplemental Norfolk and Western mortgage securing them. The Norfolk and Western Company make by stipulation New York City the terminus of the system.

A Big Deal.

We state upon good authority that the Arminius Mines have been sold to an English syndicate for ($500,000) five hundred thousand dollars and the same is to be stocked at twelve hundred thousand dollars. The new syndicate are to put up large sulphuric acid and phosphoric acid works to cost from $250,000 to $300,000 on Mineral City property. And it is understood that reduction works are soon to follow. Several of the old gold mines will be reopened and new ones will be made to blossom like the rose. We sincerely hope that what is here on paper may soon be on the ground; and that we may realize all that we hope, and that the realization will be but the dawn of a bright day for this County and State. Louisa Advance.

It is a well known fact that the Hobbie Music Company, of Lynchburg, Va., are selling pianos and organs at lowest prices, and on easier terms than any other house in the country. You can be convinced of this fact by comparing their prices with those of other dealers. Illustrated catalogues free.

Salem Real Estate.

Is Salem real estate a good investment? James A. Gale, of Roanoke, invested $125 through H. G. Brown and received $1,750 profit in less than a month.

Nelson D. Barrett bought, December 17, 1889, lots 10 and 11 section 21, Der 17, 1889, for $3,000. H. G. Brown & Co. sold these July 3rd, 1890, for $5,000 in $1,000 cash payments.

His Arm Broken.

William Kane, a well-known young man of this city, had his arm broken by jumping from a moving train in the West End yards yesterday morning. He was also considerably bruised about the face and head.

The Times Office.

The news and composing rooms of the TIMES were moved yesterday to the Moomaw building, corner Campbell and Henry streets. The business will remain for the present at 110 Jefferson street.

The City's Health.

Numerous reports having been circulated as to the ill health and great mortality in our city, last evening a representative of the TIMES interviewed Chief Knepp, at whose stables the principal horses are kept. By his remarks it is shown that there have been but three funerals in the last three weeks—a mortality percentage lower than many cities of the same size.

POCAHONTAS MISREPRESENTED.

Reports of Riots There Untrue and Exaggerated.

POCAHONTAS, July 26, 1890. To the Editor Roanoke Times.

At the request of numerous citizens of this place I beg to submit for the information of your readers a protest against the great injustice done to our people by frequent publications appearing in Virginia papers, representing rioting and general lawlessness in this section, when there has been no foundation whatever for the wild statements made. We fully appreciate a live, progressive newspaper, and will attempt to complain when the truth is told in regard to any trouble we may have, but we very naturally feel disgusted over the action of publishers who, instead of lending help in the right way, resort to the false and untrue statements in every proper way, always seem to be ready to besmirch and defame simply to cater to the depraved appetites of a certain class of readers who are not to be considered, regardless of results. In our excitement, we have quite submitted to gross misrepresentations regarding riots, bloodshed, etc., in our midst, while the best of good order prevailed among us. We are now numerous readers that the account published in Lynchburg, Richmond, and even Philadelphia papers of this week of "bloody riots" in this section, and Sunday last, in connection with which several people were shot, etc., was a pure fabrication from beginning to end. Today the writer succeeded in detecting a son of Ham in an effort to publish a story in which the blood-thirsty Hatfields and McCoys were vividly pictured in a combined attack upon our town. This literary genius, who is likely the author of the "bloody riots" story, is now endeavoring to be a special dispatches from here, will likely change his address to the county seat in the near future, as his last effort, which failed to reach the publishers, savors sufficiently of libel to cause one of our citizens in endeavoring to secure free boarding for him for a while. Should you or any newspaper publisher desire to be kept posted in the events of this section, truthful people can be relied upon to serve with which several people were shot, etc., was a pure fabrication from beginning to end.
